

MARRIED MEN AT CAMBRIDGE

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Oct. 15.—Never in the history of Cambridge university have the authorities faced such a situation as confronts them this year. There are 1,000 more undergraduates than in 1913 and a large number of them are married.

Hundreds of them are completing degrees before the war. They are the "overseas" men, many have married and come back to college, in many instances, with one or two children. It is a task for Cambridge to care for 5,000 students and the addition of so many wives and children has aggravated the crowded conditions of the town.

NIGHT LIFE IS ECLIPSED BY BERLIN RAID

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Fifty-one of the most notorious of Berlin's famous, infamous night-life spots and saloons, where all evening regulars were known, were closed last night by the new police and the police and the police.

Countless arrests were made. The proprietors of six other cafes were arrested. There were so many that the raid could not be held in one evening.

The police were playing and all night long when one police officer, in plain clothes, captured each of the fifty-one resorts. At first he was greeted with laughter but when the exits were closed most of the patrons fled. Many of the proprietors, disoriented by the raid, were taken away from the scene. Some were taken to the police station and others were taken to the police station.

MORE DIVORCES FOLLOW WAR

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 11.—England and Wales have furnished a record number of cases for the new term of the divorce court. It is expected that there will be about 2,000 cases, or more than double the total for any previous list. About half these will be brought by people of small means, who have taken advantage of the facilities offered by the official bureau which has been established since the war began to assist the poor people in obtaining relief in the divorce court without going to the heavy expense which the ordinary procedure involves.

There has been a steady increase in the number of divorce cases in this country since the beginning of the war and the problem has been growing much more acute. Two parties have arisen, one favoring more liberal divorce laws, and the other deprecating the growing number of separations of this kind. As to the cause of the increase, there is a difference of opinion.

TEN "NOTS"

The 100 per cent American is NOT the silly patriot socialist who, in these days of seeming disorder and chaos among laborers, spreads propaganda of three-hour work days and the division of wealth.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the ignorant dreamer who, in these days of financial disturbance, spreads his vicious vision of over-earned bankers' systems, discarded insurance establishments and revolutionary monetary values.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the would-be "scientific socialist" who, in a period which should be all means be a constructive one, seeks, by his ostentatiously learned arguments, to tear down the social, financial and civil systems of the greatest country that God ever gave the protection of His Almighty hand.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the theoretical society socialist, who talks at length of labor troubles and of their solution, though he has never been a laborer and knows nothing of the real conditions of the laboring classes.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the sweet young thing who has "taken up" the cause of socialism and of the "down-trodden working man and who perhaps worships some hero in disguise who is to emancipate the laborer in his visionary future.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the radical, narrow-minded street orator who influences unsuspecting people by his high-sounding phrases, gathered from the pages of red literature which he does not thoroughly understand himself.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the sneaking, sly, slanderous leader who dictates to the breadwinner as to when he shall and when he shall not work to earn a living for his family.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the sneaking, sly, slanderous, spreading, ill-perday organizer who goes about among satisfied, honest working men, spreading a doctrine of dissatisfaction and distrust calculated to bring about some kind of a revolution which will place him in a position of higher influence and salary.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the self-important debater who argues in behalf of socialism, for the sake of argument, realizing that the bolshevik terror in Russia was the outcome of just such small beginnings.

The 100 per cent American is NOT the hypocritical newspaper owner who poses as a supporter of Wonder if King Albert has succeeded in making that "rough" However, it is pleasant to know that he is all who participated in his country's journey.

democracy and of labor against capital and who is himself in control of a great newspaper trust and whose every move is made with the fine selfish motive of self-advancement at the expense of labor and democracy.
